

The movement of goods and People from place to place and the various means by which such movement is accomplished. (Brittanica)

Transportation Service Point Structure

